Featured Gemstones:

Aquamarine has been called the “stone of courage,” as it enhances and accelerates one’s responses and reasoning, and can be used as a stone of protection. Aquamarine is calming, and facilitates putting us in touch with our deepest emotions, assisting in clearer communication with our soul’s purpose. It provides a shielding aura, and has been used to guard against injury. Aquamarine allows one to be more perceptive, attuned to nature, and spiritually centered. It is an empowering stone - not thru strength and will, but through resilience.
