About this Kit:

Yang energy is about passion and growth, and we hope you enjoy this limited series of bracelets that were inspired by Father's Day. We did our best to design with strength and courage in mind, and while these are not limited to being Men's jewelry (as I am a 5 ft. woman that designed and wears them also) - it was with the idea of making something that the men in our lives would be comfortable wearing as well:

Jewelry that inspires confidence, balance, energy, and empowerment!
