About this Kit:

Green aventurine is the stone of optimism. It is a comforting and heart-healing stone, which assists with new situations like starting a new job, a new relationship, new school and helps with challenging issues like aging, illness, and our mortality. It is a “Go with the flow stone”! It is also a good luck stone which promotes prosperity.

Jade is the common name for two similar minerals - nephrite and jadeite. The name of the stone originated from the Spanish “piedra de nada”, which means loin stone, inasmuch as jade was thought to be a stone which relieved kidney ailments. The Spanish term was later translated into French and was subsequently simplified in English to “jade”. Jade is a stone that promotes emotional balance. It attracts good luck and friendship. Jade promotes purification and gentleness, has a soothing energy, and can be nourishing to the soul. As a protective talisman, jade has always been held, worn, and praised as a stone rich in good fortune.
