About this kit:

String up this sleek Southwest-inspired choker, which features soft pink or fiery red coral contrasting against cool blue turquoise.

The wearing of coral dates back thousands of years. Coral is believed to be protective and healing, and has regenerative qualities. It can be used to promote personal growth and development.

Turquoise may be the oldest used gemstone, dating back as far as 5,000 b.c. Turquoise assists one in finding wholeness and truth, and promotes communication. It helps bring about serenity and peace, heals emotions, and relieves stress. Turquoise strengthens and elevates all levels of energy, increasing understanding of emotional issues, creativity, and intuition, while being guided by love. It is a healer of the spirit, a source of strength, a guide through the unknown, and a protector from danger.
